Program: Arms that were imported during the Civil War

Brother David Kampf did his usual masterful job with his presentation of "Arms that were imported during the Civil War." David has been giving talks to our Camp for a decade or more and it seems that he never runs out of interesting topics and this one was no exception.

David had nine imported shoulder arms and a pistol from his collection on display and talked about each one. He also gave an overview of imported arms during the Civil War. Did you know that between July 1861-July 1863 fifty percent of shoulder arms for the Union Army were foreign made? Now you do and those present were the recipients of much more interesting information.

Great job Brother David Kampf!

Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, 134th Annual Encampment—Richmond, Virginia, August 20-23, 2015: Notes of Encampment

The annual encampment was attended by Camp Commander John R. Conrad and General R. H. G. Minty Camp Commander Robert D. McCord.

Attendance: over 170 brothers attended the Encampment in Richmond, VA, with 154 of those being credentialed delegates. Both Arizona Camp Commanders attended as delegates. One of the delegates was the great great grandson of Ulysses S. Grant. The National Encampment of the ASUVCW occurred at the same time, with over 70 delegates, including one delegate from the Picacho Peak Auxiliary.

Minty Charter: CinC Tad Campbell presented the General R.H.G. Minty Camp No.2 charter to Camp Commander Robert D. McCord at the beginning of the proceedings.

ROTC Program: recommendation was made to make the ROTC medal, certificate, and ribbon available free of charge effective 1/1/16. This would be considered a charitable contribution and help the tax status of the order. Picacho Peak has in the past demurred from awarding the ROTC awards because of cost, but if there is no cost, the Arizona camps should consider appointing an ROTC Coordinator, perhaps at the Department level. In a related move, the Encampment endorsed and referred to committee to allow sisters in the Auxiliary to present the ROTC award on behalf of the SUVCW.

Eagle Scouts: A resolution was passed to explore whether the Eagle Scout recognitions should be funded by national similar to the ROTC Program. This would require action at the 2016 Encampment.

Department of the Southwest: It was noted several times before the Encampment by National officers that the General US Grant Camp No. 3 was meeting the same weekend for organizational purposes and that the Department of the Southwest was likely to attend the 2016 Encampment. Formation of a Department requires the request by the three Arizona Camps to the CinC that a Department be formed. In discussions with several National officers, including the incoming CinC, the name Department of Arizona and New Mexico or even New Mexico and Arizona was denied, and the name Department of the Southwest proposed. The new CinC desires to avoid the use of state names in Departments, as evinced by his own department changing from the Department of Maryland to the Department of the Chesapeake a few years ago.

Elections: Eugene Mortoff of Maryland was elected CinC, Donald L. Martin of Ohio as the SVCinC, and Mark R. Day of Virginia as the JVCinC.

Because it voted last, the Camps at Large cast the deciding votes for one of the Council of Administration seats that was won by one vote.

Dual Members: An attempt to exempt dual members from paying National per capita assessments for each camp they belong to failed. Dual members are required to pay camp, department, and national dues for each camp. However, a resolution passed that dual members count in determining the required number of members to form a camp.

Civil War Ancestor Biography—James Redman Wisner

Sister Verna Maleski, President of the Margaret Warner Wood Tent No. 1, submitted the following biography of James Redman Wisner who is also the Civil War ancestor of Sister Michelle Geris of the same Tent and her son, Picacho Peak Camp Brother John Geris.

James Redman Wisner, the son of Moses Carpenter & Elizabeth Ann [Bunce] Wisner, was born in Wayne County, NY, September 29, 1826. He married Sophonra Wilkinson, daughter of Aaron Wilkinson & Polly Wilkes, September 27, May 1849, in Wayne County.

He enlisted on August 25, 1864 at Auburn, New York. His service record says he was 5 foot 7 inches tall with grey eyes, brown hair and a light complexion.

A farmer by trade. He served as a private in the NY 15th Engineers, Company C. and mustered out of the service on June 13, 1865 at Fort Berry, Virginia.

The 15th Regiment Engineers was organized at Washington, D.C. October 25, 1861, and attached to the Engineer Brigade, Army of the Potomac. The main work of the regiment was that of laying bridges; being known for the for their “pontoon bridges” or floating bridges that could be put up and dismantled then transported by wagon to the next site where there was no bridge for the troops to cross. A floating bridge was constructed by anchoring a series of large, flat-bottomed boats across a waterway and then laying wooden planks across them. The planks (the “chess”) were anchored by side rails and then covered with a layer of soil to protect it and to dampen sounds. Pontoon bridges were extremely important to the outcome of several battles, including Fredericksburg where they were particularly noted for building a bridge over the Rappahannock. They’d marched 8 miles, began work at 11:30 and had a bridge 420 feet long ready for use at 4:30 p.m.

During its long service the men became very proficient in engineering and through its steadiness under fire is said to have lost no bridge material of any kind during the last year of its service. The original members not reenlisted were mustered out at New York in Sept., 1864, and after participation in the grand review at Washington, the other companies mustered out on June 13-14, 1865.

Not much is known of his movements during the war but based on records we know all Companies of the 15th NY Engineers were engaged in siege operations against Petersburg and Richmond June, 1864, to April, 1865. In January 1865, three companies were detached and sent to North Carolina. The remainder of the regiment, including Company C remained at Petersburg until the final surrender and Appomattox Court House April 9 for the surrender of Lee and his army. James received a pension for an injury from a fall he sustained on December 12, 1864 at Petersburg.

James came from a long line of Patriots and “fighting men.” His 5th great-grandfather, Johannes Wisner, the progenitor of the Wisner family in America, was an officer in the Swiss Infantry. He was part of Queen Anne of England’s Swiss contingent commanded by the Prince of Orange that fought in the continuing wars against France. At the war’s end, Queen Anne rewarded 10,000 of the Swiss soldiers for their service in the war by sending them to the Colonies to start new homes.

With wife Elizabeth [Drumbaugh] and two sons, Henrick and Adam, and fellow soldiers of the Swiss contingent, Johannes arrived in New York around 1710. Some time was spent on Governor's Island till he found work with a Christian Snedikor of Hampstead, Long Island. He was sent by Snedikor to Orange County, New York, to oversee land Snedikor owned in Wawayanda Patent. By late July 1714 he was able to buy land at Warwick, near Mount Eve on what is now the border of Drowned Lands. Johannes and his wife Elizabeth, were the first permanent white settlers in the valley. There is a roadside marker about 1 ½ miles southeast of Florida, NY, with the inscription: "Settlers, first in town of Warwick, Johannes and Elizabeth Wisner, under Wawayanda Patent, 1702, settled here in 1712." Johannes & Elizabeth were married in 1697 in Lake Constance, Switzerland. He was born about 1676 in Zurig, Switzerland and died May 19, 1744 in Florida, Orange, New York at the age of 67 or 68 years. A few of their descendants still live in the area.

James 3rd great-grandfather, Capt John Wisner SR, grandson of Johannes and Elizabeth, was Captain in the French and Indian Wars and the Revolution. He was holding rank as Captain as early as 1756 in the Colonial forces. His 2,000 acre estate, on what is today the property of the Mid-Orange Correctional Facility, was received directly from the British Crown before the revolution.

James great-great grandfather Capt John Wisner Jr., son of Capt John SR and Ana [Jayne] Wisner, was born in 1741. On October 13, 1775 he was elected Captain in the Florida and Warwick Company, belonging to the Regiment Orange County Minutemen. He was stationed for a while at Fort Constitution and fought in the Battle of White Plains. Washington Irving made the following reference to Capt Wisner in his book, Life of George Washington; 'The garrison at the fort consisted of two companies of Col John Clintons regiment and Capt Wisner's company of Minute Men. In all one hundred and sixty rank and file. All miserably armed. ' Capt Wisner's granddaughter would later write that he narrowly missed being captured at Fort Constitution due to being out on maneuvers.

James and Sophronia had three children: Augusta, my 3rd grandmother, born August 24, 1850, James Carpenter born January 7th, 1858 and Erissa born August 9th, 1861. They lived in Wayne County until 1866. The family moved from New York to LaSalle County, IL where Augusta met my 3rd great grandfather, Allen Griffith. They wed on April 9th, 1868 at the home of her parents in Ottawa, IL.

In February 1881, James and Sophronia, along with their son James, daughter Erissa and son-in-law Thomas Varah, moved to Hastings, Adams County, NE where they bought farmland and lived out the rest of their days surrounded by a large family. Many descendants still live in the Hastings area. Sophronia died May 1st, 1917 and James died February 8th, 1918. They are buried in Greenwood Cemetery in Doniphan, NE. They were married 68 years and five months....a long and happy life together.

James was a member of the Silas A. Strickland GAR Post in Hastings, NE. A newspaper article from the World Herald, Omaha Dec 9, 1909 gave his service in the Civil War and that he'd been the oldest veteran to march in the annual Encampment (Hastings 1908) and at present the 3rd oldest veteran in the state of NE.

"Hastings, Neb., Oct 2—Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wisner celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary Friday at the home of their daughter Both have reached the age of 88 years and are yet in splendid health.

"Mr. Wisner . . . was the oldest veteran to march in the parade at the annual encampment two years ago and is now the third oldest veteran living in the state."

James R. and Sophronia Wisner

Editor's note: Thank you Verna for a great article! If anybody else wants to submit an article regarding their Civil War ancestor please contact the newsletter editor David Swanson.
